INVESTMENT BANKING ACADEMY (IBA)

The University of Alabama's Investment Banking Academy aims to prepare students for careers in Investment Banking, Equity Research, and Sales & Trading.

IBA General Information

The Investment Banking Academy at the University of Alabama was founded to help students learn about and fully prepare for a wide range of investment banking careers. The group's primary areas of focus:

Networking: IBA sponsors a group trip to New York City each year to meet and learn from leading investment banks in the world's financial capital. Members throughout the year also cultivate established and new contacts to build the group's and their own individual networks in the field.

Interview Preparation: Members learn in detail about the investment-banking interview process and prepare for it through intensive financial analysis and valuation study, resume writing workshops, mock interviews and alumni mentoring.

Job Placement: IBA's overarching goal is to place members in relevant summer internships. Since the group's inception in 2014, 100% of its members have secured summer internships at leading financial firms.

IBA INTERNSHIP PLACEMENTS

MOELIS & COMPANY

J.P.Morgan

Morgan Stanley

Spring 2019 Applications: Applications for our Spring 2019 curriculum are open ~~now~~ and will close on November 30th, at 11:59pm. Applications consist of a resume and a few short answer questions to gauge basic interest and understanding in investment banking.

Following the initial application, we will invite a select few back for a one round interview between December 5th to 7th to further gauge interest in investment banking, commitment, and general skill set.
